DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1, 11, 18 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

More specifically, claim 1 is indefinite because composition does not contain units. Thus it is not clear what the basis i.e., vol% or wt% ,for the amounts of each component is.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kirchmeyer et al, 5,811,480 (Kirchmeyer).

Kirchmeyer teaches a size composition, method of making and fibers sized therewith, said composition comprising a film former, silane coupling agent, lubricants and polyurethane, essentially as claimed in claims 1, 11, 17, 18, and 20. See abstract. In addition, the film former, silane, non-ionic lubricant, and cationic lubricant are all of the type contemplated by applicants in claims 2-6,8, 10, 12, 18 and 21. See columns 3 and 4. As to claims 13-16, it is the examiner's position that changes in temperature, time and concentration ordinarily are not a matter of invention in the absence of clear factual evidence to the contrary.

Therefore, the prior art teachings of Kirchmeyer would have rendered obvious the invention as claimed in present claims 1-21.

No claims are allowed.
